

INDEX TO VOLUME 9 1984

ARTICLES AND FEATURES

Campaign for the return to free wage bargaining	K. Douglas	113
Early Childhood Workers Union: an analysis of collective consciousness and praxis, The	H. Cook	5 ✓
Federation of Labour Conference, The 1984	R.J. Harbridge	117
From hot metal to cold type: new technology in the newspaper industry	R. Hill	161
Full circle: Australian wage determination 1982-1984	D.H. Plowman	95
In recognition of skill: the growth of qualification payments, 1960-1980	P. Walsh	81
Labour process theory and the chain system in the New Zealand meat works	K. Inkson and P. Cammock	149
Managerial unionism and the law in New Zealand	K.D. Binnie and D.F. Smith	69 ✓
New Zealand full employment goal: a survey of changing views 1950 to 1980, The	T. Endres	33 ✓
Strenth v cleanliness: how images of masculinity and equality shape women's industrial position in a "man's world".	C. Wylie	11 ✓
Technological change and the labour process — towards an analysis of computerisation in the New Zealand trading banks	J. Brocklesby	195 ✓
Technological change and the labour process in New Zealand: a synthesis	J. Brocklesby P. Couchman R. Hill K. Inkson and D. Smith	211 ✓
Towards the automated office: technological change and office work in the New Zealand Public Service	P.K. Couchman	177 ✓
Treatment of industrial relations in three major New Zealand newspapers: a journalist's comment, The	W. Page	45
Treatment of industrial relations in three major New Zealand newspapers: a reply, The	R. Harbridge	49
Women and trade unions: an attitudinal survey	G. Griffin and J. Benson	23

BOOK REVIEWS

Diversity and decomposition in the labour market by G. Day et al (Eds.)	P. Revell	125
Eclipse of equality by D. Pearson and D. Thorns	C. Hill	132
From subservience to strike: industrial relations in the banking industry by J. Hill	W.D. Aimer	218
Industrial relations in Britain by G.S. Bain (Ed.)	D. Martin	130
Is knowledge power? by T. Schuller (Ed.)	R. Harbridge	52
Management and the multi-racial workforce by D. Torrington, T. Hitner and D. Knights	N. Marsh	123
No free lunch by A. Low	C. Campbell	57
Of common cloth: women in the global textile industry by W. Chapkis and C. Enlow (Eds.)	K.D. Gibson	217
Strikes in Australia: a sociological analysis of industrial conflict by M. Waters	D. Bolton	55
Studies in the labour market by B. Easton (Ed.)	C. Gould	127
Trade unions: the logic of collective action by C. Crouch	J. Deeks	54
Understanding industrial relations by D. Farnham and J. Pimlott	A. Williams	220
Wage-fixing (stagflation volume 1) by J.E. Meade	R.D. Bowie	51
Women's rights in the workplace by T. Gill and L. Whitty	W. Davis	132

Invitation to contributors

1. Articles: The editors welcome articles for publication in the journal. They also welcome statements of opinion and more speculative pieces for the Commentary section. An implied condition of submission is that the paper has not been submitted to any other publication. All papers are subjected to a refereeing process before an editorial decision is made.
2. Submissions: Articles must be submitted in triplicate. They must include an abstract of 100 words or less. Submissions should not normally exceed 6 000 words. All copies must be typed in journal style on one side only of the paper (preferably A4 or 210mm x 300mm) double spaced (including footnotes and references), with a margin. Footnotes, lists of references, lists of cases, tables etc. should be typed on separate sheets of paper and placed at the end of the manuscript. Authors should retain a copy of their manuscript.
3. Comments on published articles: Before communicating with the editor, the author of a comment on an article published in the journal must send a copy to the author of the original article, with a request for a response and explanation of any point on which the original author feels that he or she has been misunderstood. The commentator is asked not to submit anything to the editors until he/she has received a reply from the original author (or no reply is received). No comment should be longer than 1 500 words. When submitted (in triplicate), it should be accompanied by a statement that this preliminary procedure has been followed, and by 3 copies of any correspondence from the original author responding to the comment. It will then be refereed, and, if accepted for publication, the original author will be given an opportunity to reply.
4. Copyright of published articles is held by the New Zealand Institute of Industrial Relations Research Inc. No limitation will be placed on the personal freedom of the author to copy, or to use in subsequent work material contained in the paper.
5. Payments are not made to authors. Authors receive a free copy of the issue of the journal in which their article appears. Reprints may be ordered at prices advised with proofs.

Preparation of manuscripts

1. Style: Articles must be submitted in the journal's style. For guides on style, authors should consult a recent issue. Particular attention should be paid to the method of citation and the style for lists of references (including the citation of legal cases and references). Authors may also find the Style book (3rd Ed.) prepared by the New Zealand Government Printer useful.
2. Sub-headings: Sub-headings should be typed lower case, major sub-headings in Roman, minor sub-headings in italics (or underlined).
3. Footnotes: Footnotes should be avoided whenever possible. Essential footnotes should be indicated by superscript figures in the text and collected on a single page placed at the end of the manuscript. The first footnote should be asterisked and contain: the author's position(s), affiliation(s) and any acknowledgements.
4. Quotations: Quotations longer than 35 words should be indented and single spaced. Short quotations should be enclosed in double quote marks (" ") and run on in the text.
5. Underlining: Only material to be italicized should be underlined.
6. Tables and diagrams: Tables and diagrams should be attached on separate sheets at the end of the manuscript. They should be numbered consecutively in arabic numerals and their place in the text indicated clearly. (a) Tables - Tables should follow the style of tables in recent issues of the journal. N.B. Tables must contain horizontal ruling only. (b) Charts and diagrams. Authors are responsible for preparing the final copy of any charts and diagrams. These should be drawn to a professional standard with black ink on white paper. The headings, labels, etc. should also be drawn professionally or written with Letraset or a similar method and reduced to a size suitable for inclusion directly into the final text. The original plus one reduced copy must be provided and it is the responsibility of authors to ensure that the charts and diagrams are proof read prior to submission.
7. References: References should be listed in full, alphabetically at the end of the paper in the following style:

Cordery J, Jamieson B and Stacey B (1978) Industrial relations as news New Zealand journal of industrial relations 3(2) : 57-62.

Turkington D (1976) Industrial conflict Wellington, Methuen.

Department of Labour (1982) Annual report Wellington, Government Printer.

Roth H (1974) Trade unions. In Howells J M et al. (Eds) Labour and industrial relations in New Zealand Carlton, Pitman.

Sulong S (1965) Aspects of trade union government in New Zealand Thesis (MA), Victoria University of Wellington, Wellington.

Proofs

Authors are expected to correct proofs quickly and not to make revisions on proofs; revisions made on proofs may be charged for. The editors reserve the right to make editorial changes before typesetting.

No commentator will be allowed to make substantial alterations to a comment in proof (i.e. after the original author has written a reply).