

ARTICLES AND FEATURES

- |  |                                    |     |
|--|------------------------------------|-----|
| Activity of employer unions in perspective, The  | R.E. Taylor andB.R. Greenslade | 191 |
| Authorising roles of public institutions in jobcreation and training: legitimating NewZealand employment policy 1980-85, The | M. O'Connor                        | 119 |
| Breakaway unions: an Australian case   | J. Teicher                         | 149 |
| Changing retirement patterns in New Zealand,1976 and 1981  | M. Rochford                        | 91  |
| Comment  | W.C. Hodge                         | 9   |
| Comment  | M. Vranken                         | 5   |
| Comment  | N.S. Woods                         | 3   |
| Concentration of unemployment experience inspells of long duration: an analysis byage and sex, The                           | P. Brosnan andJ. Hicks         | 161 |
| International labour standards and thereview of industrial law   | G. Anderson                        | 27  |
| Introduction   | P. Brosnan                         | 1   |
| Introduction: the pursuit of full employment:macro economic perspectives   | D. Rose                            | 65  |
| Legalised theft by deregistration  | H. Roth                            | 21  |
| Management of industrial relations, The  | K. Hince                           | 11  |
| New Zealand labour force participation:the ninety years to 1981  | P.M. Revell andP. Brosnan      | 77  |
| Occupational and industrial change in theNew Zealand workforce   | D.F. Smith                         | 105 |
| Occupational health and safety legislation:possibilities for future development  | I.B. Campbell                      | 177 |
| Reply to Taylor and Greenslade   | P. Brosnan andP. Walsh         | 193 |
| BOOK REVIEWS  |                                    |     |
| Collective bargaining: a response to the recession inindustrialised market economy countriesby ILO                   | M. Hanson                          | 137 |
| Common cause: essays in Australian andNew Zealand labour historyby E. Fry  | T. Simpson                         | 138 |
| Comparative industrial relations: an introductionto cross-national perspectivesby R. Bean                            | A. Williams                        | 48  |
| Dismissal and redundancy proceduresby A. Szakats and M. Mulgan  | K. Stringleman                     | 46  |
| Dismissed by L. Dickens, M. Jones,B. Weeks and M. Hart  | J. Hughes                          | 40  |
| Full employment without inflation: Manifestofor a governed economy by T. Hazledine                                       | P. Brosnan                         | 43  |

↑ 1 NOV 1987

212 Index

Invitation to industrial relations by T. Keenoy	B. Dabscheck	136
Labour relations: a student handbook by W. Burge	G. Neil	45
Marginal manager: the changing role of supervisors in Australia by P. Gilmour and R.D. Lansbury	J. Deeks	197
Mediators, The by D. Kolb	C. Hicks	49
New working class? White-collar workers and their organisations, The by R. Hyman and R. Price	D.F. Smith	42
TUC overseas: the roots of policy, The by M. Nicholson	P. Henderson	198
Tyranny of the status quo, The by M. and R. Friedman	D. Bedggood	135
White-collar unionism by K. Prandy, A. Stewart and R.M. Blackburn	D.F. Smith	42
Working class and welfare: reflections on the political development of the welfare state in Australia and New Zealand 1890-1980 by F. Castles	W. Rosenberg	39